PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The unique essence of Harry Ainlay is a result of the continued efforts of our students, community and staff. Basic to our uniqueness is a student body which possesses the desire to excel in all facets of school activity. Students are willing to devote their time, indefatigable energies and exemplary talents to reach their goals in athletic, academic and aesthetic endeavors. Our parents, community members and staff have encouraged and assisted students in their pursuit of excellence, and we have an enviable record of student involvement and accomplishment.

I trust you will remember your high school years as a period in your lives which was fulfilling, rewarding and enriching. I am sure that each of you will retain and cherish your own special memories of high school, and I sincerely hope that your recollection of your time spent in the Halls of Ainlay is as positive as my memories of you. The Harry Ainlay student body is without compare, and I am proud to be associated with it. I look forward to next year with great anticipation and optimism since I am aware of the calibre and quality of our grade 10 and 11 students.

To those of you who are leaving our school because of a change of residence, transfer, or graduation, please accept my best wishes for a productive and rewarding future.

George Nicholson

RETIRING??!!

As another year has ended, we must say our goodbyes to four very special people. Mr. Stolee, Mrs. Skaret, Mr. Rosborough, and Mr. Hunka are honorary graduands of the class of '88. Bringing with them the memories of their days at Ainlay, they will face many new changes in their lives. The school shall never forget them, as they have done so much to help the students and staff over the years. Goodbye and best wishes to all of you.

BABY BOOM??!!

ABOVE: Mrs. Hornland and her baby girl, Lindsey Marie, who was born May 20, 1988, weighing 8 lb. and 14 oz.

ABOVE: Mrs. Slevinsky and her first newborn son, Mikael Richard. Here's one boy who will probably be on time for his classes in high school.

... EXTRACURRICULAR

My mom often wonders why it is that I am so afraid of growing up. The fact that our house is conveniently placed between a pre-school, an elementary school, and a huge playground may have nothing to do with it, but I think the fact that I consistently see little kids running around has had some effect on the way I think. Yet, in watching the younger uns, it isn't so much the water pistols, monkey bars, or skipping ropes that I miss - it's watching their incredible sense of wonder in everything new, it's the jealousy I feel towards them because they are allowed to be wrong, and most importantly in the fact that frustration has not yet stopped them from giving up at anything. Now that it is coming to a time when I must realize that I can't go back, and that my turn has come to leave high school, all I can do is think back on memories, and remember what it was about going to Harry Ainlay that made me so proud to simply be associated with this school.

Now, no President's message would be complete without some kind of wish for the future of all Ainlayites. Mine goes like this (in the words of Bob Dylan):

"May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others, and let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars and climb on every rung,
And may you stay ... forever young."

But more importantly than any wish for the future, is my wish for all Ainlay-goers past and present, and that is a feeling of pride and attachment to this school. Although for each and everyone of us, the purpose of coming to Ainlay has been to gain some kind of education, I would hope that for all of you, the academic world is not the only one you've seen. We've all learned a lot through our experiences with high school, and not to discount any of this knowledge, I'd like to quote Robert Fulghum in revealing that "most of what I really needed to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be, I learned in kindergarten" (and it's true). "Think of what a better world it would be if we all - the whole world - had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nations and other nations to always put things back where we found them, and clean up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together." So, as you go through high school, or have recently left it behind, remember what you learned in kindergarten. Never forget your friends, or yourselves.

I'd also like to take this chance to thank the following people for making my high school what it was ... to Karen Wilson for the true meaning of friendship, to Doug Wiebe for teaching me about relationships, to Brian Jones, Megan Charest, and Jason Alderman for making me laugh, to my parents for everything, and to my Shuffle brothers for forcing me to be a fighter.

I'll end this with a quote from Minor Threat - "Wishing for the day, when I first wore this suit ... baby has grown older, and is no longer cute."

GRAD COUNCIL

At the beginning of the year, I thought of graduation as only a ritualized formal gathering, when we all dressed up, partied and reached a goal in our lives. During the planning of this event, I realized that it's much more than that. It is the last memory of the people we started school with. However, now it is time to move away from our peers and to set new standards for the generations to come.

High school is definitely the most important part of our lives right now, and it will hold many fond memories as we move on. However, we should not dwell on this time. We must focus on the future and make this world a better place for everyone to live in.

Thanks to the council and to the executive for making our graduation night possible, and special thanks to Mr. Bursey and Mr. Wynn for putting up with us and guiding us throughout the year. To the graduating class, I wish you the best of luck in the future and God bless you.

TITAN

We, the head photographers of this Yearbook (Ken, Rob and Erik), are not responsible for bad pictures. If you find less than adequate photos they were not done by us. (Hint: look at the bad ones from a distance and they'll seem okay.) We would never do trashy pix. (DON'T LAUGH!)

The three of us had quite an ... interesting year. We made the transitional flight from naive enthusiasm to hardened skepticism with no small amount of turbulence – verbal jousting, bitterness, laziness, apathy, missed deadlines, complexes, disorganization and too much work! We could blame all the problems on the carcinogenic atmosphere of our darkroom but there is so much more ...

We hated our involvement in the Yearbook but surely we could not have done without it. The staff and all the groupies made for excellent friends and the wonderfully silly situations we experienced together made for more fun than one could ever have in the rotunda. Yes, despite all, it was a pretty quintessential year.

A (LONG ....) NOTE FROM THE EDITORS:

One of the best things we have found about being a part of the Yearbook is meeting new people and making new friends. We used to think that we were pretty weird (or at least I did - Doris) until we met our staff members and their friends. You'll understand how weird we all are if you can read the list in the pictures on the right. Anyhow, we've had quite a wonderful year despite the 'Pressures' and 'Problems,' for if you've ever noticed, weird people have the best time. Keep that in mind the next time you see and hear someone singing "Bad" in a most ridiculous fashion, or if you happen to see a group of boys skipping in the halls with a jump rope made out of elastic bands.

Never will we forget the 'tiny' room we worked in. We're lucky we haven't yet died from toxic fumes coming from the dark room and atrocities in the garbage can which we won't elaborate on. We would like to thank everyone who helped to put the yearbook together including our advisors, Mr. Bonnema and Mrs. Deptuck, as well as our ICP representative, Ken Heathfield, all of whom put up with us despite the risk of heart disease and other possible illnesses. We must not forget to thank Mr. Mathew. Although he quit his former position as Yearbook Advisor, a very wise thing to do, we bothered him all year with our 'Problems.' We would also like to wish Ken, Erik, and their friends who are graduating this year, an exciting and fun-filled future with plenty of MONEY! We couldn't leave that out, could we?

Best wishes to everyone!!!!

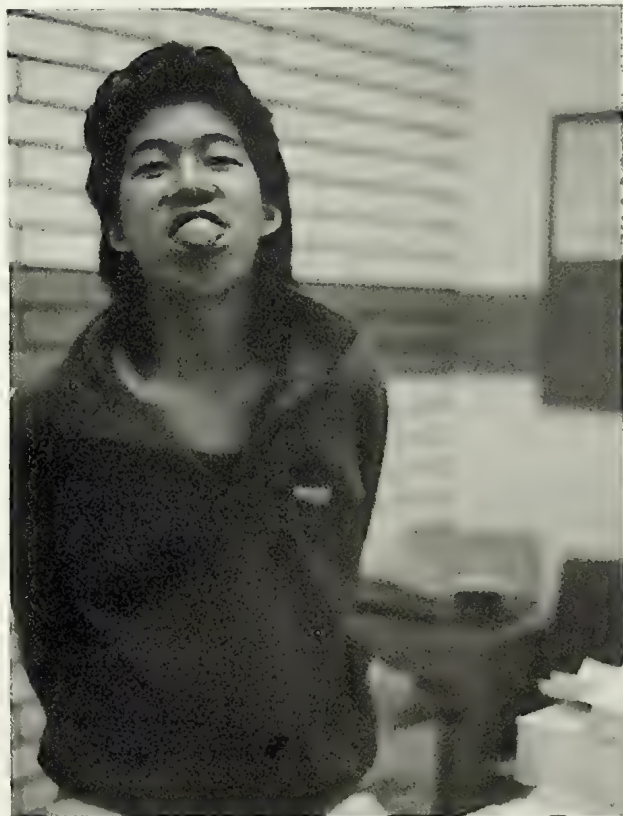

Doris & Jo-Anne

TITANIC

The Titanic took on a bright and bold new look this year. A core staff of five talented, energetic (and beautiful) students spent many a lunch hour, evening, and Saturday morn to bring the school's paper to life. And what a wonderful life it was! Everything from comics to sports to special issues sprung forth from the printers' presses. A reputation for excellence is reborn. Special thanks from the staff and all our beloved contributors.

Tri-Province 88 competitors came from B.C. and Saskatchewan. Tri-Prov is one of Western Canada's premier high school tournaments. Although the Ainlay's junior boys and girls and senior girls did not win their first games to be able to compete for the first place standings, the tournament was still exciting and full of enthusiastic fans cheering for their favorite teams. The intense moments had soon started during the final senior boys' games when Ainlay played against the Seaquam Seahawks from Delta, B.C. The many Ainlay fans in blue and white added to the excitement and support of our home team. Ainlay Senior boys had won the game to place as the Tri-Prov champions of 1988. Many hours were put into the tournament by both the executives and their assistants and the staff advisors to help make this year's tournament a success.

SKI CLUB

More than 100 different students participated in the Ski Club activities this year. Mr. Hugh Ross, the club's teacher/sponsor, led students on four very successful trips this year. The first, to Louise in December, kicked off the ski season. The second trip saw students skiing Marmot Basin at Jasper; a spring break trip to Kelowna, B.C.'s big White was excellent. There was plenty of snow, the mountain was not crowded and the facilities were excellent. The season concluded with a spring trip in May to Banff's Sunshine. Bus drivers, motel operators and hill personnel commended the students for their behavior. Some of the students were novice to intermediate, and seemed not only to have a good time, but improve their abilities considerably. Some of the Titan skiers are awesome...and tackled some of the most challenging slopes on the hills. Many of the skiers are excellent. Students are to be commended for their behavior both on and off the hill.

AWARDS BOARD

Awards Night – that night at the end of May when we gather at the Jubilee Auditorium to acknowledge the achievements of our fellow students. Thanks to those students, teachers, and families who came to Awards Night. And, to the students and staff on the Awards Board, thank you as well. Congratulations to all the awards winners (and Mrs. Newbold for her new baby boy)!

For some of us, school is now over and for others the “magic day” is coming soon. Once you are out in the “real world”, look back on your past achievements with pride but also look forward to the many more awards and recognitions still to come.

“May you build a ladder to the stars and climb every rung.”

SPEECH AND DEBATE

The Harry Ainlay Debate and Speech Club was found to be in a moribund (that means nearly dead) condition in September of 1988. However, through the efforts of six students, a rebuilding process began. These students participated in three tournaments and hosted a portion of the National Invitational Debates. Although no trophies were won this year, the students involved did win some individual debates which augers well for future Harry Ainlay debaters.

THE BOOKSTORE

The Bookstore, though it lacks carrot sticks, is the quick-snack hub of Ainlay. The cafeteria might have great cinnamon buns, but the Bookstore provides us with the heavy sugar intake that most of us REALLY need. Check out the queues at lunchtime. Evidence of its popularity are the Coke cans, chips bags and chocolate bar wrappers that decorate the school and the fields. The students turn grouchy when the Bookstore is closed. It is a sub-institution in this institution of ours.

Many people forget that it actually does sell books, and stuff besides food – is there a better place to pick up Shakespeare or Titan clothing?

We are indebted to the diligent people who worked at the Bookstore this year, who served us when we skipped out of class for something to eat. Where would this school be without them?

MATH CLUB

1987-88 was a particularly successful year for Harry Ainlay's Math Club. On the provincial level, 5 Harry Ainlay students, Xiao-Chang Cheng, Lon Labrash, Les Hankinson, Siku Adam and Mark Fokema, were recognized on the Honors list for the Alberta High School Math Prize Exam. Xiao-Chang Cheng received the 2nd highest score in Edmonton. Siku Adam and Mark Fokema, with an outstanding effort, placed 1st and 3rd respectively for Grade 10 students in the entire province. These 5 students were invited to write the Alberta High School Math Scholarship Exam, where Xiao-Chang Cheng placed 5th in the province and Mark Fokema placed 9th (top grade 10 score in the province) for which he received $50.00 prize. Both of these gentlemen were invited to write the Canadian Math Olympiad during spring break.

On the national level, we started this year's competition off with the Canadian National Math League - a 6 part competition running from October to April. The school team placed 3rd in Alberta and Xiao-Chang Cheng tied for second in Canada. On 6 separate examinations, he missed only 1 question.

Three major national math competitions are written in the spring. On the Cayley exam, for Grade 10's, the school team of Adon Crook, Ted Lee, and Akrit Sodhi, placed 1st in the city and 2nd in the province. On the Fermat exam for Grade 11's, Winnie Sia, Victor Lin, and Daniel Lowe made our school team 1st in the city and 3rd in Alberta. Xiao-Chang Cheng led our school team in the Grade 12 Euclid contest. He placed 3rd in the province and 19th in Canada.

On the international level, Harry Ainlay entered a team in the American High School Math Exam. Our School team earned a certificate of Merit for its high achievement. Xiao-Chang Cheng placed 2nd in Alberta. A Grade 10 student, Adon Crook, was given special recognition for his extremely fine achievement on this examination. 5 Ainlay students - Michael Kneesch, Michael Mah, Tom Young, Allen Shen and Xiao-Chang Cheng were invited to write the American Invitational Math Examination. Xiao-Chang Cheng was our top student on this exam, placing 8th in our zone which includes all of Alberta and the NWT.

All of the students who participated deserve congratulations for their fine efforts, and we are looking forward to an equally successful year in 1988-89.

KEVIN DAVIDSON SUPPORT GROUP

This year the students and staff at Harry Ainlay Composite High School integrated a student with a language handicap. The goal was to help Kevin develop social skills through peer interaction. The students and teachers in his classes have reached out and helped him by spending breaks and lunch with him and taking an interest in his progress. Heather Raymond, Kathryn Richards and Ed Gomes worked with a group of students who volunteered to form his peer support group. Dr. Therrien and Dan Conroy were the administrative and teaching staff advisors. Bruce Trimble, manager of the Duggan Mac's Convenience Store provided the work experience supervision. Thanks to all who have been involved this year. Kevin has enjoyed his year and made some special friends. Thank you again Harry Ainlay for a year filled with fond memories of laughter and friends. See you next year.

On October twentieth, the "don't mind the rain type of" students went to Bamfield Marine Station. Bamfield Marine Station is a biology research station in the temperate rain forest of Canada on the west coast of Vancouver Island. Unpredictably the rain coats, hats, and rubber boots were not required! The sun shone for the duration of our four day stay. Some students tried tanning themselves and basically had fun. They participated in laboratory activities (echinoderm embryology, plankton analysis, sea cucumber hydraulics and dissection) and short field trips (tour of Grapple Inlet, open ocean dredging and trawling, as well as a day hike to the open ocean). The students took a plane, a van, and a boat to get to B.M.S. and back to Edmonton, a very enriching biology experience as well as a very enjoyable and fun filled trip.

At 5:30 a.m. on Sunday morning, September 27, 1987, the only signs of life at the Edmonton International Airport were an occasional moan and groan from a brain-dead group of teens. But no! Wait! This groggy group was actually I.B. students from H.A.C.H.S. bound for Washington, D.C. on an exchange with the Washington International School. By the time we landed in Washington, we had come to life and were ready to meet our billets. Some of us lived with ambassadors, lawyers or senators right in Washington while others were billeted in either Virginia or Maryland.

The ensuing week brought a barrage of unforgettable activities. Each morning there was a check-in with our dauntless leaders, Mrs. Tuffs and Dr. Mitchner followed by a group tour of Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, the Lincoln, Jefferson and Vietnam Memorials or the White House. Free time enabled us to discover museums, the Pentagon, Georgetown, good food at the Zebra room, the Library of Congress, endless shopping, the zoo, sore feet and dropped ice-cream cones (right Michelle?)

It all came to an end much too soon and we found ourselves back at the airport on Sunday, October 4.

Thanks to Dr. Mitchner and Mrs. Tuffs for a super trip!

S.S.30 EUROPE TRIP

Ah, Europe. What can I say about Europe?

The Europe Trip of March 28 to April 11 of 1988, was perhaps the best two weeks of many of our lives. Thirty-two near strangers embarked on this odyssey, and thirty-two friends returned. The cultural experience was second to none; food (which some chose NOT to eat), art, architecture, language, all contributed to our EDUCATION. And once we got that over with...

Who could forget "The Border-Crossing Blues", joking with Seppi (whose limited English vocabulary seemed to expand enormously when girls were around), group photos ("No wait, just one more!"), and convincing Doc Mitchner and Mrs. Tuffs to sit on the lap of that statue in Budapest. Boy, did they look silly.

At the end of the two weeks, we were pretty happy to come home, wash our clothes, and sleep for three days, but I think we all realized:

Never again will so many have so much fun for so little (as most of us billed our parents).

The Senior Titans enjoyed one of their greatest and most exciting seasons ever. The Titans had no problem in entering the city finals once again. For the second straight year they took on their archrivals the Salisbury Sabres, this time trying to redress last year's disappointing loss. Fiery determination was the key to triumph as Ainlay opened an early lead and continued on strong to capture the city crown (15-7). A week later, just when the Ainlay fans were saying, "Couldn't ask for a better one," the Titans, in the same battlefield, met the tough Lethbridge Collegiate Institute Rams in the Tier 1 Football Provincial Championship game. Managing to recover from several deficits, the Titans finally edged the Rams (22-20) with a last minute touchdown.

This is the first time that the Titans have won the recently-instituted provincial championship, exhibiting high school football at its best. Congratulations go out to not only the coaching staff and team captains but also to the unrecognized players, many of whom will be returning next year. Carrying this potential, next year's team should be yet another exceptional contender.

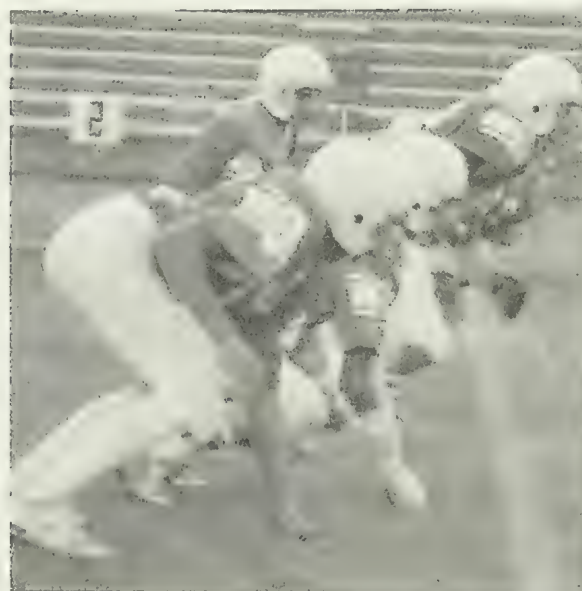

Despite a disappointing loss in the city finals, the Junior Titans had an excellent year. They fought and played with admirable grit and everyone put out his best in every game. No individual player stood out from the rest; rather, the team was a well-balanced unit. As time and experience for the young Titans will surely bring about better results, next season we should be looking forward to great improvement and hopefully the elusive championship.

SENIOR VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball season this year for our Ainlay Titans was very successful. The great coaching efforts of Mrs. Hornland, Ms. Mitchell, Mr. Lerbekmo and Mr. Olsen took a few bunches of individuals at the start of the season and formed them into powerful and skilled units. In league play all four teams finished at or near the top of their respective standings. In the several tournaments in which Harry Ainlay participated the Titans usually came away with wonderful results. The four teams, in fact, were nearly dominant and all ended up in the city championships. There all the determination and hard work (sweat and pain) with a touch of humor finally paid off. In the gymnasium of Victoria Composite High School the teams received three gold medals and a silver (Junior Girls). Not bad for a day's work! The Senior Boys and Girls, because of their victories, then represented Edmonton in the provincial finals in Grande Prairie. The boys played tough but missed some chances and finished out of the medals. It was up to the girls to uphold our school honour and they did by soundly winning it all. We thank all our Titan volleyball players for their expert work!

TITAN VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

Titan Volleyball Tournament 1987 was about as competitive as it has been in its nine years. The sixteen highly-ranked teams that were invited to attend from the four western provinces brought tremendous talent to the event and it was obvious from the start that no one would have an easy ride to the top.

Both the Ainlay teams did very well in round robin action. But in the play-offs, all the other volleyball clubs gunned to upset the home teams and unfortunately some did. The Senior Boys defeated Scona in a convincing fashion but finished the tourney in fourth place. Our Senior Girls did marginally better by capturing third. This was not the most successful TVT ever for Ainlay teams but in light of their later city and provincial championships, we can forgive them.

In the end it was the Miles Macdonnell Buckeyes of Winnipeg who won the boys' crown. For the girls, the winners were the Carlton Crusaders from Prince Albert. These teams and the others helped make the long work of the TVT executive worthwhile, by bringing us a hard-fought and exciting tournament.

Once again, the Harry Ainlay Senior Curling team had a very successful season. The team, consisting of Skip Mike McDonald, Third: Doug McLaughlan, Second: Colin Bennett, and Lead: Greg McLean, curled their way to the City Finals, held at the Sport Ex Building.

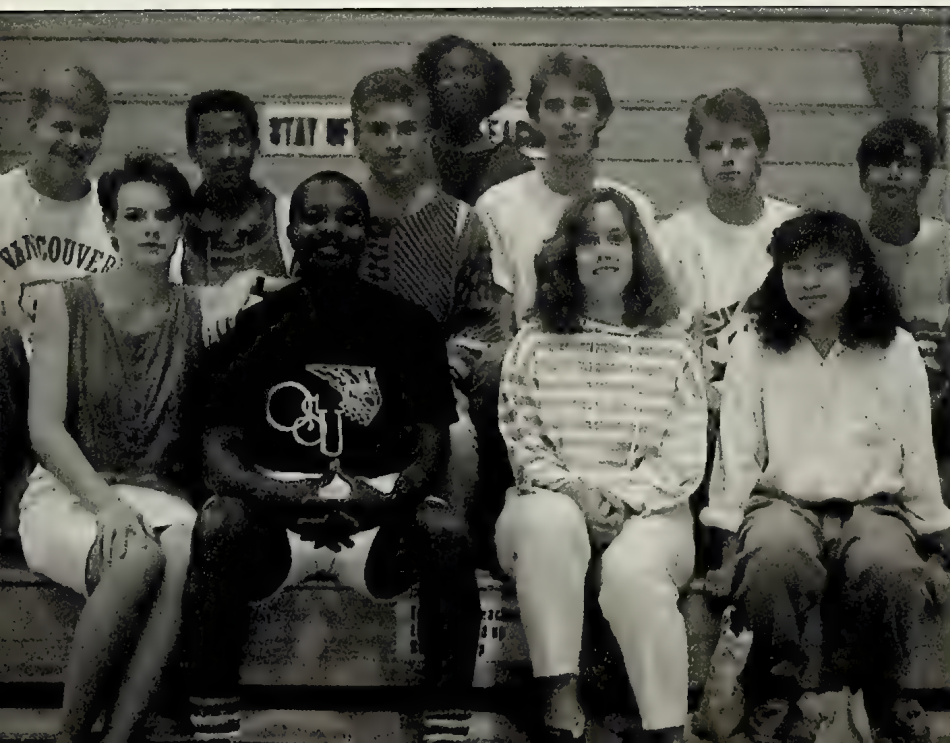

Unfortunately, the team lost to Ross Sheppard in the semi-finals after a clincher of a game, closing at a 7-5 final.

Our team fostered a 19-6 (win/loss) record for the season, which began in November and ended in late March.

Our team, over the past three years, has been recognized by other high school teams, as "one of the toughest teams to beat." Thanks for both your coaching, and your support, Mrs. Parker and Mr. Kumish.

Congratulations on another successful season!

The dedicated and hard-working members of the cross-country team were rewarded with another fine year. With their excellent performance in the city finals, eight members of the Ainlay team: Hazel Choy, Karin Cruickshank, Ed, Blanka Jelen, Eamonn Muldowney, Ken Pogrevinsky, Tyler Wolfe, and Darryl Saari went on to represent Edmonton at the Provincial Cross-Country Championships in Lacombe, Alberta. Although no one finished in the medals, coach Mr. Powell expressed that the team was "a great bunch," and he is looking forward to another great season next year.

BADMINTON

For the first time in 11 years, the Ainlay badminton team captured the city championship in late April by defeating Strathcona in all five categories, ending Queen Elizabeth's five-year reign. This is proven to be the fruit of genuine effort by a regular season record of 13-1 in the South division. In the Tier 1 Provincial Championship held in Brooks, Alberta, the team ended their three-month season with first place finishes by Brad Alton in the senior boys' singles and by Simon Williams in the junior boys' singles. Congratulations to the team for keeping up the Titan winning tradition!

GOLF

The Harry Ainlay men's golf team, led by Richard Howarth's gold medal performance, won the Edmonton zone championship for the 4th consecutive year. The team went on to the provincial championship at Wetaskiwin where they won the bronze medal, finishing only 2 shots behind the eventual winner. Richard Howarth won the gold medal for having the low individual score at the provincial tournament. Congratulations for another successful year!

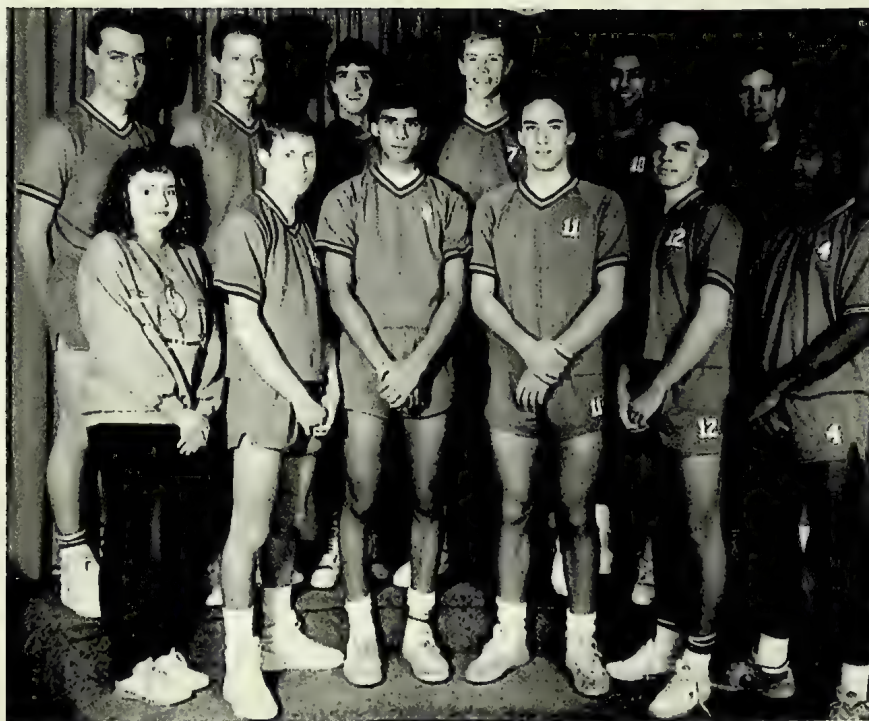

MEMBERS ARE (L TO R): Richard Howarth, Lee Rusinko, Tim Garbutt, Lindsay Kotylak, & Mr. Lindenberg, the coach for both teams.

Congratulations to the Harry Ainlay ladies' golf team which worked hard this year, finishing second in the Edmonton zone, only 11 shots behind Salisbury.

SENIOR Boys' BASKETBALL

The Senior Boys' Basketball Team achieved this year what no previous Titan team had before. The Senior Boys advanced to the Provincial 4A Final where they were narrowly defeated in an excellent game by the Ross Sheppard Thunderbirds. The Titans captured tournament success at the Mount Royal Classic in Saskatoon, the Leduc Invitational Tournament, and our own Tri-Prov Tournament. Selected as the most sportsmanlike team of the Sugar Bowl Tournament in Raymond and of the 4A Provincial Tournament, the Titans were respected as a fine team who played the game as it should be played. Jules McNeil was honored by the other teams in the Premier Conference by being selected as the league's most valuable player.

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1987/88 Senior Girls' Basketball season proved to be one of the closest ever, with only two points separating the top five teams. Through hard work and a strong effort, the Senior Titans prevailed as league champions. During the season, the girls won the Paul Kane Invitational, placed second in the C.A.P.H.E.R. Nait and The Mount Royal Classic, as well as strong showings in Lethbridge and Tri-Prov. Keeping up with tradition, Ainslay once again met Salisbury in the championship final, but unfortunately, this was not to be their year, losing by a mere five points. Congratulations and thanks to all members of Senior Titans for their commitment and effort with special congratulations to Allison Smith who was named to the City All-Star Team. Sincere thanks to Head Coaches, Sue Tokariuk and Warindav Riar; Assistant Coaches, Paul Jap, Ranjt Riar and Glynn Thomas.

JUNIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

The 1987-88 season was one of success and failure. The team was capable of outstanding performance and mediocre play.

There was no doubt that a city championship was the team goal and during the season they defeated every Edmonton junior boys' team handily. During the premiere conference round the team lost only once—a 1 point game to O'Leary and finished the year in First Place overall. When the play-offs started, the team defeated Salisbury and St. Josephs playing faultless basketball. Against Bev Facey in the city semifinal, Ainlay played well but Facey played a little better eliminating the Titans with a basket at the four second mark to advance to the final.

Harder work and more devotion to fundamentals would be the lesson learned by the junior boys.

The junior girls sailed undefeated through the first round of play this season and had a record of 8-1 in their Premier Conference games. By topping the Salisbury Sabres 47-43 in the final they became the only Ainlay basketball team this year to be the best in the city—and this is their second consecutive title. Exceptional efforts were similarly paid off in the Referee's Tournament at M.E. Lazerte and the Bev Facey Tournament. In our very own Tri-Prov the girls lost by two points to Western Canada in the final. Suzanne Wood, however, was named best defensive player in the junior girls' draw.

TRI-PROV '88

Question: What do the following have in common?

- a) Junior Girls' debut
- b) Canadian basketball superstar & honorary chairman of Tri-Prov '88 – Eli Pasquale
- c) Exuberant performances of the Ainlay gymnastics team and the Seaquam cheerleaders in Opening Ceremonies
- d) Jolan Storch's greeting speech and her "Top Five List"

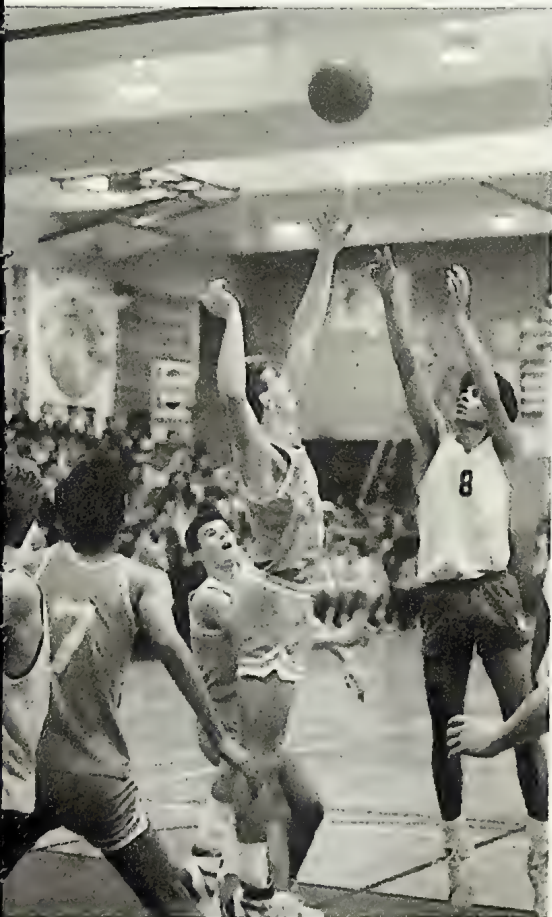

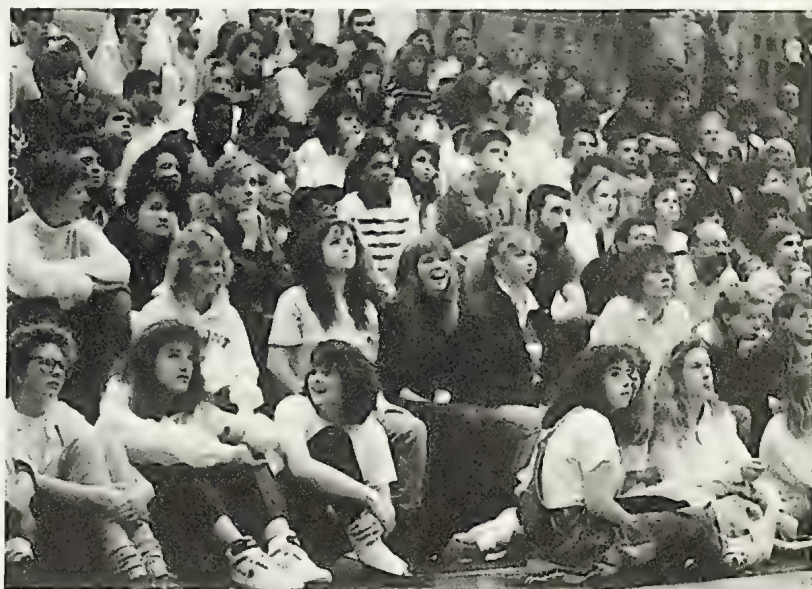

Answer: These are some of the factors that made the 15th Annual Harry Ainlay Tri-Province Basketball Tournament the biggest and classiest sporting event of the year.

Twenty top-calibre high school teams from the three western provinces were performing their very best in this competition. All four of the Ainlay teams finished in the medals with the senior boys capturing the gold. Our boisterous fans and the cheerleaders invited along with the teams also contributed to the tournament's success in boosting up the spirit around the gymnasiums!

Thanks to all of our unsung heroes – the Tri-Prov Executive – who brought us another professionally-run tournament and who stuck around and cleaned up!

The turnout for this year's gymnastics team far exceeded even our own outrageous expectations. At one point during the season, the TITAN Gymnastics Team consisted of over 70 athletes from Harry Ainlay and various other Edmonton Public and Separate Schools.

The team opened the season this year by participating in the trials to the 1988 Alberta Winter Games. The Harry Ainlay Boys went on to take the zone title as well as winning the Winter Games title. (Incidentally, this was the first time in the history of the Games that high school gymnasts defeated club gymnasts).

Harry Ainlay also competed in meets hosted by Three Hills, Strathmore, and Grande Prairie. Once again Ainlay did well against strong club gymnasts, and has set a precedence for the coming years as we were the only "high school" competing in the meets.

Our team placed extremely well at the City Championships April 8, 1988 as well as winning many individual awards as well as the team trophy at the 1988 Provincial Championships held at Harry Ainlay April 15 and 16, 1988.

The following gymnasts showed considerable improvement over the course of the season, and took a gold medal in the Provincials. Jennifer Farr Jones, Shannon Lake, Allison Storochuk, Debra Guyer, Tania Markel, Leanna Enstrom, Tara Bennett, Sean Crockett, Darryl Schallig, Mitch Yaremko, Dustin Wilson, Victor Lin, Steve Bunker, Jeff Lin, Kelly Mock, Cindy Campbell.

A special note of thanks goes to Jennifer Jones. Without her help, I could not have pulled off Provincials. Keep smiling, it is almos Friday!!!

TEAM

The 1987-88 season again proved to be very successful for the Titans Swim Team. Led by a strong group of first year women swimmers, the Titans won four out of six regular season meets. At the High School Championships, the Titans placed second in the Men's, Women's and Combined categories, duplicating their results of the previous year.

WATER POLO

We did not end up strong in the final standings, however, the students that participated did enjoy the season and have developed their skills to the point where we should be able to begin next season with a solid core of experienced players.

Randy Allorie, Aubrey Breitreitz, Jason Fedorak, Lucy Highett, Colin Holt, Lynne Koziey, Keith Laslop, Shane MacKenzie, Brook Marshall, Lindsay Newcomb, Steven O'Hara, Ingrid Ommundsen, Alex Ross, Vanessa Sands, Margo Schulte, Danny Segal, Patti Sim, Rob Turner, Richard Walters. Although losing in the semifinal and not repeating as city champs, they lost with the knowledge that the team that beat them went on to win the city crown. The senior boys have promised to avenge the loss this year and bring the championship back to Ainlay in 1989—where it belongs.

JR. Boys' SOCCER

The junior team is improving each year and this year was most successful. With many of the same players returning, 1989 looks to be a championship year.

For the first time in the history of Harry Ainlay, the Senior Girls' Soccer team has taken the city championship in the Edmonton Premier Conference. Congratulations!! Keep up the winning tradition!!

SR. BOYS' RUGBY

JR. BOYS' RUGBY

The 1988 Jr. Boys' Rugby season was a successful one. The team had a respectable season record. They came alive in the play-offs to beat Ross Sheppard in a hair-raiser, 10-8, at the semifinal. They went to the city championships against Salisbury, but could not penetrate the Saber's outstanding defence, losing by a 10-0 margin. Forwards, Greg Polholka and Randy Zawadiuk as well as the backs, Duncan Moss and Jason Fowlow, deserve honorable mention for their excellent performance and their effort in a terrific season.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM

Once again the Titan Indoor Track & Field Team had a successful season. The team competed in two major track meets. It participated in the 10th anniversary of the Simplot Games held in the Mini-Dome on the campus of Idaho State University in Pocatello. It was well worth the eighteen hour bus ride because the team performed extremely well, bringing back several gold, silver, and bronze medals.

Three weeks later at the Journal Games, held at the Universiade Parvillion, the girls' relay team won the gold medal in record time while the boys' team hung on to a silver. Marcy Heschuk, Barb Bentley, David Helbig, and Juno Brady all made outstanding performances among the individual events.

WRESTLING

The Titan Wrestling Team had another successful season this year. Although the team was small, consisting of about 15 dedicated members, most of our wrestlers had a winning season under the coaching of Mr. Legg, Mr. Grady and Kim Walsh. Pascal Bonnet and Todd Smith each had an outstanding year, with both competing in the national championships in Quebec in early March. Most of the veterans of the teams are graduating this year, and next year will be dedicated to rebuilding another team of winners.

SPECTATORS

Titan fans are one of the most essential aspects of any sporting event which features the Ainlay Titans at their best. With garbage can lids, horns, and other noisy gadgets, these spectators will cheer the Titans on until the very end of the game. The famous "wave" and the "taste great, less filling" chant support the Ainlay Titans to triumph. COME ON AINLAY, LET'S HEAR IT FOR THE TITANS!!!

BIO 201 TRIP

What do you get when you cross southern Alberta with a busload of IB students? You get 40 hyperactive, sleepless card sharks the next day. On June 8 and 9, the two Biology 201 classes went to the Tyrrell Museum of Paleontology in Drumheller and to the Calgary Zoo, much to the dismay of their other teachers. Under the understanding and positive guidance of Mr. Olsen, they saw large, lifeless lizards with skinny skeletons at the museum, and rotund buddhist pandas at the Zoo. Less scholarly endeavours that excited the creative juices included watching three block buster movies and taking advantage of the waterslides at the Sheraton Cavalier Hotel in Calgary. Through the pouring rain and the sizzling sun they proved one thing - you're never too old for a trip to the Zoo.

VALEDICTORIAN'S SPEECH

Good Evening

To be honest, being valedictorian is an uneasy position for me. I never thought that getting a few good marks would have the side effect of putting me into an unnerving situation like this. But this is just one of the many unexpected agonies one had to go through in high school. And what is more: graduation now puts us on the threshold of a new life of which we have little experience. This new challenge, though exciting, is bound to produce some more discomforts.

For the past three years it has not been unusual to hear some complaints against restrictive high school life. Now on graduation the enthusiasm about being finally free seems to be overwhelming. However, graduation is the time when we are about to enter adulthood. The serious part of the journey of life has just begun and we are immediately faced with the agony of being left alone. While there are less restrictions from our parents and teachers, there is also less guidance and support available. The void in our lives left by this sudden change we must fill all by ourselves.

Thus it is only natural that we depend on the experience gained from the past. Through our high school years we have acquired a certain amount of knowledge; broadened our ways of thinking, and above all, developed a spirit of cooperativeness through friendships. As we bid farewell to Harry Ainlay, we carry with ourselves the invaluable experiences he has given to us. Like rock climbers, we shall use this experience as a solid base for our explorations into the future. To help us find firm handholds in dealing with unexpected hardships and to evision a strong rope that holds us together till we reach the final summit.

Although a great diversity exists among us, Harry Ainlay has provided each of us an opportunity for self-achievement. If at our entrance to high school we did not realize the importance of the three years to come we certainly do now. And if we now feel a slight lack of true accomplishment, I hope that 10 years from now each of us will have grasped something meaningful from life. By then we shall truly feel thankful to our school, our teachers, our parents, and their tireless efforts.

On behalf of all 1988 graduands, I bid farewell to Harry Ainlay Composite High School, and wish everyone of us a bright future.

Thank you

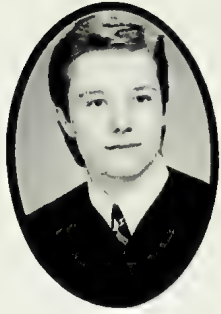

XIAO CHANG CHENG

 Dale Wasserman

SALMON, Janelle
 "What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."
 Wm. Morrow

SALMON, Tiffany
 "I don't know where I'm going.
 But I sure know where I've been
 Hanging on to promises,
 And the songs of yesterday ...
 Here I go again."
 Whitesnake

SANGHA, Sonia
 "There is only one way in the world to be distinguished.
 Follow your instincts!
 Be yourself and you'll be somebody."
 Bliss Carman

SAPURJI, Michello
 "Our lives are not measured in moments of time but in timeless moments."
 "God gave us two ears and one mouth so we would listen twice as much as we speak."
 Ghandi

SARAM, Anoma
 "Do not look back and grieve over the past, for it is gone;
 and do not be troubled about the future, for it has not yet come. Live in the present, and make it so beautiful, that it will be worth remembering."
 Ida Scott Taylor

SASS, Karen
 "I know I'll never lose affection for people and things that went before, I know I'll often stop and think about them - in my life I've loved them all."
 The Beatles

SCARFE, Andrew
 "The mind is but a barren soil - a soil which is soon exhausted, and will produce no crop, or only one, unless it be continually fertilized and enriched with foreign matter."
 Sir Joshua Reynolds

SCHEFFER, Lisa
 "It's better to be thought as a fool than to open your mouth and remove all doubt."

What lies within us."
Ralph Waldo Emerson

SEIFERT, Linda
Thanks to all my friends that made my three years special, because now is the time when we all go our separate ways.
May we look back on these times and remember all the special moments we shared together.

CLASS

CLASS HISTORIANS 1988

Steppenwolf's "Born To Be Wild" begins playing on a huge ghetto-blasters next to the podium. Brian and Jolan enter on skateboards...

Bri: (in the Australian Energizer Battery Man's Voice) What's the longest year you've ever had? It'll surprise ya! Oi!!

Jo: (in Australian accent) G'day mate!

Bri: (in normal voice) It's the class of 1988.

Jo: A fine mixture of Bangers,

Bri: Preppies,

Jo: Jocks,

Bri: Brains

Jo: and Wannabees.

Bri: Look Jo, there's a group of Bangers right over there.

Jo: Oh, you mean the ones with the high tops under their gowns?

Bri: And the walkmans with a little bit of ACDC.

Jo: The ones who drive to school in the cars with the stereos costing twice as much as the car itself,

Bri: And loud enough for everyone to hear.

Jo: (in Banger voice) Hey dude, did ya catch the Maiden concert last night?

Bri: (long thought) ... I, ... I think I did.

Jo: (back to normal) Wait a minute ... what's that clicking noise I hear?

Bri: Oh, it's the brains typing up their Bio notes for future reference.

Jo: Ohhhh, the I.B.'s!

Bri: The Neo-maxi-zoom-dweebies,

Jo: The elite few who are actually proud to bring their tests home,

Bri: And are always on hand to correct you when you least need correction.

Jo: (in obnoxious and insinuating voice) Ahh, Mr. Smith ... sphygmomanometer is spelled with an 'er', not a 're', and your calculation is out by a hundredth of a decimal!

Bri: (in Church Chat Lady's Voice from SNL) Well ... aren't you SPECIAL!!

Jo: (sniff) Urghh ... what's that smell!

Bri: Oh, must be the jocks.

Jo: Ohhh, you mean the ones in the rotunda trying to show off their pumped muscles VERY indiscreetly.

Bri: The bookstore ... (posing in his amazing bodybuilding pose) ... it's That Way.

Jo: You can tell this genus by their blue and white Ainlay jackets,

Bri: Their names sewn on their sleeves,

Jo: And their sport proudly crested on their biceps.

Bri: And Jo together flex their biceps and speak: Volleyball ... Basketball,

Bri: But while Jo poses: Wrestling (illustrates bum) ... Gymnastics (illustrates chest) ... and Football. (together they grab their groins)

Jo: And above us all,

Bri: The preppies.

Jo: You guys know how to WEAR Polo, you know how to WALK Polo, and you know how to SMELL Polo, Bri: But have any of you guys ever SEEN a Polo match?

Jo: Usually from Riverbend or Westbrook Drive,

Bri: But wherever they came from they drove daddy's BMW,

Jo: And were fully equipped with Mom's VISA card,

Bri: Driving not only to school,

Jo: But every Friday and Saturday night, cruising around the city,

Bri: Trying their hardest to look important,

Jo: And yet ...

Together: They always end up at 7-11!

Bri: Kinda foolish ... but so is high school.

Jo: (in preppie drawl) I can't decide on who to go to Grad with, Hugo or Calvin, and I mean, What will my date wear ... do Hugo and Calvin like totally clash, or what?

Bri: (in gay voice) Listen toots, as long as you do something with your hair you'll be fine, it just does nothing for you. And as far as Grad dates go, they're passe, go with yourself ... you can't get any better.

Jo: In the beginning of our high school lives, and mostly because of the size of our school, we were judged from day one. No matter what kind of people we were on the inside, we were stereotyped by the clothes we wore, the way we looked, and the music we listened to. But one thing we should all be thankful for is that we have a cool principal. Here is a man who wouldn't judge us until he really got to know us. There's just one thing about Georgie Nicholson ... his speeches.

Bri: (in Georgie's voice) It give me great pleasure to be standing in front of you the class of nineteen ... eighty ...

Jo: (whispers) ... eight.

Bri: ... Eight. It gives me great pleasure to greet you, it will give me great pleasure to meet you, and we will be especially pleased to beat you.

Jo: ...NO, NO, NO, Mr. Nicholson, that's your TVT/TRI-PRO speech, this is Commencement, the Class Historians are supposed to be speaking right now ... have you lost your memory??

Bri: (back to normal) Memories ... ah ... Grade Ten.

Both step away from podium and look shyly towards one another.

Jo: When you were one of 2400 students.

Bri: When you seriously didn't know how to get to your locker, and it'd take you the whole break to find your next class.

Jo: Yah, but even when you didn't know where your class was, you'd still take the long way around the school, just to avoid the rotunda.

Bri: When your bike was your only form of transportation.

Jo: Remember when you and your Mom went shopping the week before school and bought all those new clothes which were Totally Uncool, and you'd NEVER wear again.

Bri: Yah, but remember when you started to wear a bra?

Jo: And when you started collecting them!

Bri: When you thought high school was the scariest pubescent time of your life.

Jo: And you thought skipping class was unforgivable.

Bri: Remember when you got your first attendance letter, and your Mom and Dad asked you WHEN?

Jo: WHY?

Bri: WHERE?

Jo: and WITH WHOM?

Bri: You were, when you weren't in Typing 10?

Jo: And you were wondering what Oliver North would say..

Together: Probably wouldn't remember.

Jo: And then all of a sudden you were in Grade 11.

Both step away from each other and hold hands very distantly.

Bri: Grade 11, when you finally found your corner of the rotunda.

Jo: When if you wanted to be cool, the best thing you could be was a skater.

Bri: (in skater lingo) Bitchin!

Jo: When you discovered that even if you did get the car, there'd be no use in driving it to school, cause the walk from your car would be just as far as your walk from home.

Bri: When every Grade 11 girl was fab...ulously tanned in the middle of winter, and don't tell me your hair is naturally that blonde either.

Jo: When you finally stopped believing that there would be breathalyzers at the door of every dance.

Bri: When getting served alcohol at Maxwell Taylor's was the coolest thing to happen to a minor, but getting I.D'ed was the worst.

HISTORIANS

Ahhh yes, Maxwell Taylor's, the fake I.D. hangout of Edmonton.

Jo: When you heard so much about the dances the next day, but couldn't remember a thing from the night before.

Bri: And then before you knew it you were right into Grade Twelve. Put their arms around each other and Brian gives Jolan a kiss on the cheek

Bri: When skipping class was second nature.

Jo: When our classes become SIX whole minutes longer ... and what a difference that made.

Bri: When Tiffany was 'Alone', Michael was 'Bad', and George had a lot of 'Faith' in 'Wanting Your Sex'.

Jo: When you were supposed to memorize every type of "ism" there was for Social 30 ...

Bri: Nazism, Socialism, Isolationism...

Jo: But the only "ism" you studied was Plageurism.

Bri: When YOU wanted to buy an Acid Wash jean jacket!

Jo: Well ... everybody else was wearing them.

Bri: When Ainlay students had their own version of Billy Idol's 'Mony Mony'.

Jo: When Calgary was to hold the finest presentation of sports ever - The Winter Olympics.

Bri: Two fun-filled weeks of people walking around in pastel colored Sun-Ice jackets.

Jo: Ahhhh yes, as Grade Twelve's we were subject to a lot of changes.

Bri: Now we would need at least a 70 to get into University.

Jo: For once in our lives, we would have to REALLY study.

Both: SURE!!!

Bri: Because of this, the Harry Ainlay Library would now be filled with bluming and aspiring intelligentsia.

Jo: Everyone knows that the library,

Bri: Ah, Pardon me, Learning Resources Centre,

Jo: Thank-you, has the quiestest staff, and is the quiestest place in the world to study...

Both: SURE!!!

Jo: Another change we were subject to this year was the big AIDS scare.

Bri: Prophlactics were now available not only in every corner store, but also in every public washroom.

Jo: But I mean, What IS the message that they're trying to get across in their commercials.

Bri: Two people running across a field of daisies is not exactly the most direct way to say, Wear A Condom.

Jo: We think the AIDS campaign should be more direct ... like the Drunk Driving one.

Bri: If You Have A .....Think!

Jo: Speaking of Condoms, our school's most notorious Biology teacher got pregnant this year.

Bri: Remember the first time you were late for Slev's Bio 30 class?

Brian runs up to podium very timidly, as if Slev's classroom door, and knocks very very quietly.

Jo: (imitating Slev - opens door and looks at Brian ... long pause) YOU'RE LATE YOU DIRTY ROTTEN NO GOOD PIECE OF SEA CUCUMBER!!!

Bri: Kind of ironic how her baby was late, eh!

Jo: I wouldn't have wanted to be in that delivery room.

Bri: Grade 12, when the rotunda was our second home.

Jo: When we realized that there's a little bit of a Banger.

Bri: Preppy.

Jo: Jock,

Bri: and Brain in each of us.

Jo: And just what do we have to show for all of this?

Bri: Just what was the purpose of these last three years?

Jolan holds up a Harry Ainlay Diploma

Both: THIS.

Jo: So now, for the moment you've all been waiting for.

Bri: From the Edmonton Public School Board Office in Downtown Edmonton, Alberta ...

Jo: We bring to you ...

Bri: The Top Five uses for your High School Diploma.

Jo: Number Five ... To roll the biggest joint of your life at after-grad.

Bri: Number Four ... To hang between your Loni Anderson and Andy Gibb posters in your room.

Jo: Number Three ... To cut out nice letters to be used for sending anonymous hate mail to the teachers you just love.

Bri: Number Two ... To prove to people that you went to the best High School in Edmonton ... just in case they mistook you for someone from Scona.

Jo: And the number one use for your High School Diploma ...

Bri: Is to show what these last three years of your life have all been for.

Jo: But really ... it isn't the paper that matters.

Bri: It's the wisdom and experience that we will use for the rest of our lives.

Jo: The wisdom of our friends, teachers, and parents.

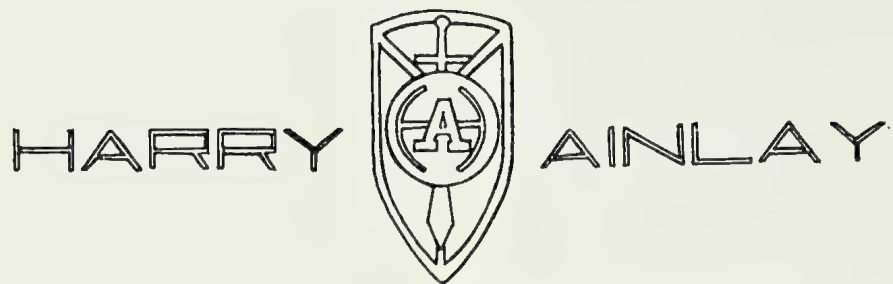

Bri: So don't you forget about what you've learned...

Jo: Don't you forget about us. (motions to all)

Brian grabs Jolan's hand while Jolan grabs the ghetto blaster. As they exit Simple Minds 'Don't You Forget About Me' plays. FINITO.
